CLEMENT CLARKE INTERNATIONAL LAUNCHES ALL-FLOW DESKTOP SPIROMETER AND FILTER RANGE

Harlow, Essex -- Clement Clarke International Ltd, respiratory manufacturer of well-established, trusted brands such as Mini-Wright, Medix and Lifecare, will launch the All-Flow Desktop Spirometer and range of spirometry filters at the European Respiratory Society Congress in Copenhagen, Denmark September 17th -21st 2005.

The All-Flow handheld spirometer measures, records and assesses flow/volume and volume/time parameters to identify the presence of lung disease, the extent of abnormalities and impairment, the progression of the disease and determines the best course of therapy. The ergonomic, lightweight design of the All-Flow allows it to be held easily with one hand, while the anti-bacterial filter and the disposable mouthpieces protect against possible cross infection. The USB port allows results to be automatically transmitted and stored within the user friendly software and patient database.

The comprehensive printed report, designed with an emphasis on test quality control, displays superimposed graphs for repeatability and quality control, predicted graphs for easy reference and comparison, micro graphs for easy sequence and selection analysis, computer interpretation, selection of reference values and a bar chart of results with normal ranges for easy assessment.

The All-Flow range of pulmonary function filters provides a wide selection of ports to enable the respiratory professional to accurately obtain quality spirometry and lung function results. All Flow filters meet or exceed the highest standards in PFT filtering with minimal resistance and low dead space. The unique port colour variety simplifies use and reduces contamination risk with filter mounting.

Clement Clarke International Ltd is dedicated to combining years of respiratory experience and the proven performance of trusted brands, with the distinctive talent for offering unparalleled support and tailoring customised solutions to enhance patient care, while improving efficiency and reducing cost. The company continues to develop proven brand product ranges to strengthen our respiratory portfolio in asthma management, COPD, oxygen therapy, cystic fibrosis and allergic rhinitis.
